From the Pastor

Hello friends,

Forgive me for belaboring a point about the Church's year again, but there's a lot to be taken from the way our calendar flows. A new Church year started back on December 1 with the First Sunday of Advent, and for the last several weeks we've built in a number of elements to build up to this coming Wednesday. In the readings we're hearing very preparatory, prophetic words from the likes of John the Baptist, Mary, Elizabeth, and Paul. In our physical space we've seen the building illumination of the Advent Wreath it's no coincidence that the fourth candle completes the brightness of the wreath this weekend, with Saturday being the winter solstice/darkest and shortest day of the year. That color purple that I'm wearing for most of the season points to the kingdom of God, firmly rooted in Christ's royal entry into the world. If you feel like there's a building tension, a bated breath and strange watchfulness in the last few days before Christmas here, you're nailing it. This whole season of Advent is designed to differentiate this Moment – to make perfectly clear that there is something different about this week. It's all about invitation – an invitation to each one of us to invite the Lord to shine His light into our hearts and through us into the world.

Just as important as Advent is the time that comes right after. It feels like we've seen Christmas decorations up around town and in stores for a good three or four months now, likely to disappear in roughly four days. This is a bit backwards – Christmas (like Easter) is such a monumental event that we don't just celebrate it on December 25, but for a full eight days starting December 25, and even then with the Christmas Season. I'm guilty in my own personal practice of cutting Easter and Christmas short, and it's something I need to remind myself of all the time that it takes real and good work to celebrate well, just like it takes real and good work to go through those preparatory seasons (Lent and Advent) well. Ordinary Time is around the corner in just a bit, but not yet. Those few months of deep winter between Christmas and Lent always strike me as odd. Once the ground is definitively covered in snow and the thermometer stays below 32 for more than little stints, we'll feel the slow-and-steady of Ordinary Time. I try to slow down in January and February and allow myself, like a bear (which incidentally doesn't truly hibernate – they lied to you about that one), to stop producing quite so much for a bit (harder said than done) – It's important to let grace expand in quiet. Then comes Lent, into the springtime of Easter and new life, and before you know it we're back into the Ordinary Time of summer and fall.

Each year's a new year, and even while you and I have been here before, we haven't necessarily been here before. The Lord's mercy and grace and restoration are always new, and He always wants to draw you deeper and deeper in.

God bless you, and happy final few days of Advent.

Fr. Joe

A "Mass intention" is a specific prayer request that someone asks a priest to offer during Mass. This means that the Mass, is dedicated to praying for a particular person (either in celebration, for their health, well-being, or the repose of their soul), or in thanksgiving for something, or for a special reason not necessarily disclosed; it is asking the priest to specifically remember someone or an event during the celebration of the Eucharist.
